Our play and learn culturally rich environment and activities accommodates children's natural curiosity by providing a wide variety of experiences that encourage the development of :

- Self-confidence and a positive self-image
- Consideration and respect for others
- A feeling of being a valuable member of a group
- Problem solving skills and enthusiasm for learning
- Complex physical, emotional and cognitive skills

Through structured and spontaneous play opportunities, children are helped to develop complex skills in all areas of development—physical and motor, social and emotional, language and cognitive.

Our East meets West curriculum include experiences with literature, social studies, concept development, motor activities, science, dramatic play, arts and many others.
